

Dear Student,

The University of Oxford is collaborating with the non-governmental organisation Lebanese Alternative Learning (LAL-NGO) to review some of the science tasks available on Tabshoura platform and improve them. Your participation will be very much appreciated.

What would you be asked to do if you said yes to participate in this study?

You and your classmates will be asked to solve a number of science exercises. Then a researcher will look at how you have performed on these exercises. If you did not do well on the exercises, no one will be upset and only the researcher will know and will not tell anyone, not even your teachers.

The researcher might later discuss with you how you arrived at your answers. The researcher will be taking notes and will audio record the conversation you will have with them. She will, with your parent's and your consent, also photograph you, though your face will be blurred in photographs so you can't be identified.

Photographs may be published for research purposes at conferences, the University of Oxford website, and the researcher's Twitter/Facebook account, and research data may be published in academic publications. However, she will never report or reveal your name, the name of your teacher or your school in any of the papers and books they are writing. If you have any questions about the project, your teacher will be able to get you in touch with the researcher involved.

What if I did not want to participate?

This is absolutely fine and will not affect you in any way. If you agreed to participate and changed your mind later, you can tell the researcher and no one will be upset.

Please tick each box below if you agree.

- ☐ I would like to take part in the study and I understand that I can say 'no' and stop at any time if I do not want to take part any longer and nobody will mind.
- ☐ I am happy for a researcher to take photos of me and use them when presenting their research to others.
- ☐ I am happy for a researcher to ask me to talk about how I solved some science exercises
- ☐ I am happy to be audio recorded.
- ☐ I know that people from the University can communicate their findings to other researchers and people at LAL-NGO.
