

Inhibition with Cue and Target Responses

Participant, please click on each check box below , to indicate your consent to the statement:

- I understand that my participation in this project will involve pressing buttons to make judgements about colours, shapes and lines shown on a computer screen. This study will take approx. 1hr.
- I understand that participation in this study is entirely voluntary and that I can withdraw from the study at any time without giving a reason and without loss of course credit/monetary compensation. After my testing session is complete it will not be possible to remove my data since it will be stored anonymously.
- I understand that I am free to ask any questions at any time and can discuss my concerns with the experimenter.
- I understand that the information provided by me will be held anonymously so that it is impossible to trace this information back to me individually. Information will be held securely on the University network, on DVDs in a locked office, or on an encrypted data storage drive, and may be retained indefinitely.
- To ensure access to the data for the wider research community, the anonymous dataset maybe archived in an online repository (e.g., the Open Science Framework, <https://osf.io/>) or sent to other researchers upon request for inspection. My data, including demographic information (gender, age, handedness), may be included in scientific publications in an anonymised form. (E.g. “Forty students from the University of Aberdeen took part. Gender was self-identified: 20 female, 18 male, two non-binary”).
- To ensure that in future follow up studies the same participants are not tested I understand that my name will stored electronically on a password-protected server, and separately from any data collected, until Sept 2022 at the latest. If I wish to, I can get my name removed from this list at any time by contacting Laura Prosser or Rachel Swainson (contact details below).
- I understand that at the end of the testing session, I will be provided with additional information about the purpose of the study.
- I have had an opportunity to discuss with the experimenter any questions or concerns I have about the study at this stage.
- This consent form will be stored electronically on a password-protected server, and separately from any data collected, for a minimum of 3 years after the conclusion of the study.
