UCL YEAH Longitudinal Questionnaire: Wave 1

SAMPLE: 1000 respondents, aged 16 to 25 across the UK, per wave.
Benchmark study of a 6 waves tracker
1 wave every 3 months
Online methodology
Designed as longitudinal but will be recruiting back up to strength.
Participants to the initial benchmark study will be re-invited to subsequent waves.
All respondents from previous wave to be re-invited to the current wave.
Then re-invite lapsed respondents before topping up with like for like respondents.

Note to scripter: Consistently code 'prefer not to say' as code 99 and 'don't know' as code 97 for all questions.

ASK ALL
INTRO.
Thank you for taking part in this study. The next few questions are about your current activities, health, studying and employment.

Findings from the survey will inform the public and government on how young people are negotiating the consequences of the coronavirus pandemic since March 2020 and what support may be needed in future.

Your experience helps provide a real picture of how young people in Britain manage the coronavirus pandemic's impact on their life and future outlooks

The survey will take about 10 minutes to complete. Your views are very important to us regardless of your current circumstances. All your answers will be treated in the strictest confidence and you will not be identified with your responses.

The next few questions are just about yourself and your circumstances

Thank you for taking part in this study. The next few questions are about your current activities, physical and mental health, personal and household finances, ethnicity, studying and employment.

Findings from the survey will inform the public and government on how young people are negotiating the consequences of the coronavirus pandemic since March 2020 and what support may be needed in future.

Your experience helps provide a real picture of how young people in Britain manage the coronavirus pandemic's impact on their life and future outlooks.

The survey will take about 15 minutes to complete. Your views are very important to us, regardless of your current circumstances. All your answers will be treated in the strictest confidence and you will not be identified with your responses. This survey will be conducted over a period of 18 months and provided data will be stored up to December 31, 2022.

Thank you for taking part in this study. The next few questions are about your current activities, physical and mental health, personal and household finances, ethnicity, studying and employment.

Findings from the survey will inform the public and government on how young people are negotiating the consequences of the coronavirus pandemic since March 2020 and what support may be needed in future.

Your experience helps provide a real picture of how young people in Britain manage the coronavirus pandemic's impact on their life and future outlooks.

The survey will take about 15 minutes to complete. Your views are very important to us, regardless of your current circumstances. All your answers will be treated in the strictest confidence and you will not be identified with your responses. As you may know, the UK Government announced measures in March 2020, to slow the spread of the coronavirus that causes COVID-19. Subsequent measures have been announced since then. These included instructions to stay at home as much as possible and only leave for certain reasons. This is known as the government stay-at-home order and is commonly being referred to as a 'lockdown'.
